FRESHMEN TILTS
OCCUR DAILYThe Colts Slip Over Another
Victory, Coming Out on the Long End by 4 Points.

BY CHARLES A. GRIMES.

Freshmen frolics are getting to be everyday occurrences in the Notre Dame gym. At least so think the men on the varsity basketball team who have been affording the sport, the meat and victories for the yearlings in the daily set-tos between the vets and the colts.

Yesterday's workout was almost a repetition of last Friday's varsity-freshmen tussle, save that the first team exhibited a wee bit more pep Monday. The colts slipped over another win, coming out on the long end by a four point margin.

With Bahan, Bader, Gipp, Smith and Stine in the line-up the freshmen started off in good fashion after the customary warming-up practice. They scored twice before the freshmen got started. Then Trafton, Kiley, Anderson, Mehre and Anderson got going and the varsity failed to stop 'em. Brandy supplanted Bahan, and Pearson took Gipp's place at center. But, work as they would, the new combination could not subdue the yearlings, and they won, 17 to 13.

Because of an infected toe on his right foot, Hayes was not out for practice Monday afternoon. It is doubtful if he will be in trim for the game Wednesday afternoon with Kalamazoo.

Track Men in Full Bloom.

Coach Rockne's track men were out in full bloom and were going big in all the indoor preliminaries Monday afternoon. Capt. Rademacher got back into the pole-vaulting game and cleared the bar at a respectable height for early season practice.

Rockne has a job and a half cut out for himself in attempting to turn out a track team. Only five old-liners, Rademacher, Powers, Patterson, Van Wenterghen and Douglas are now available, although Mulligan is expected back the first of February.

In the sprint this season Coach Rockne has O'Malley, Lockard, Scallin and Patterson. Lockard has displayed class in inter-hall meets and is expected to go big this year. Barry, Colgan, Smith and Bahan, all newcomers, are prospective quarter-milers. In the half, McDonough, brother of Notre Dame's famous Andy Meredith, a cousin of the famous Ted, and Davis, are showing steady improvement. Van Wenterghen, a monogram man, O'Hara and Clancy are "Rock's" only milers. In the two-mile he has O'Connor, Jenny, Shanahan and White working out daily.

Hurdlers are as scarce almost as Bolsheviks at an afternoon tea. Hoar is the only prospect in the high and low events, although Hayes and possibly Gipp may be pressed into service at the end of the basketball season. Grabner, Hoar, Smith and Gipp, none of whom have ever had previous experience, will be tried in the shot-put. Douglas, a monogram man Hoar, McGuire and De Courcy are trying for the high jump. Capt. Rademacher is king of the pole-vaulters. He is running mates are Powers and Hoar. Krimp, Scallin, Hoar and Shea are candidates for the broad jump.

Bill Hayes, national interscholastic 100-yard champion, has returned to school after a year in the navy. Although not eligible for the indoor season, he will have passed the one-year rule in time for outdoor work.

Volley Ball

After a week of idleness caused by the membership drive at the Y. M. C. A., the Old Timers league got back into the harness last night in three of the snappiest volleyball games of the season.

The score by games was:
Rev. Davis 21 21 17
Nitsche 26 18 21
The next game will be played at the Y. M. Wednesday evening, starting at 5:30 o'clock sharp.

MAJOR LEAGUE
HEADS REPLY

See No Use in Signing Temporary Agreement Proposed by Minors.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Bar Johnson and John A. Heydler, presidents respectively of the American and National Baseball leagues, decided at a conference today not to sign a tentative agreement with the minor leagues.

Heydler said that he and Johnson would not sign the agreement until they had time to go into the subject more fully. They may take up the situation as presidents of their respective leagues at the next meeting of the National commission, he stated.

"I see no use in signing a temporary agreement," said Heydler. "If there is any discussion let it be over a real agreement between the two parties. The minors wanted to break the national agreement and we gave unanimous vote of the 16 major league clubs at the joint meeting last Thursday we agreed to respect the contract reservation up to 21 players and present territorial rights of the minor leagues. This is all on record. What more can they want?"

John H. Farrell, secretary of the National Association of Professional Baseball clubs, who had remained here to get the signatures of Heydler and Johnson, was greatly disappointed. He said he did not think there would be any trouble in getting the signatures after the agreement had been approved by August Herrmann, chairman of the commission, last Saturday. He added that while the big leagues had made several promises, the National association deemed it important that these promises should be in writing pending the drawing up of a lasting agreement.

Before leaving here for Washington, Pres. Johnson appointed Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York club, and Frank Navin, president of the Detroit club, as the American league committee which will act with the national commission on the question of finding an available candidate for the position of chairman of the national commission. They will act with the National league committee, William Baker of Philadelphia and William Veck of Chicago.

Johnson, while in Washington, will endeavor to make arrangements for the discharge of certain major league players in service in Europe. The American league clubs as well as several National league clubs, have furnished Johnson with a list of players overseas, whom the clubs regard as essential.

INDIANA MAN RELEASED FROM GERMAN PRISON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The war department last night made public a list of American prisoners, who have been released from German prison camps and who have arrived in allied or neutral countries.

Enlisted men released from the camp at Rastatt, Germany, and returned to France include Charles H. Doane of Terre Haute, Ind.

GETS NO BETTER
EXCEEDINGLY FASTSeventy-first General Assembly
Heavily Republican in Both Branches.

News-Times Special Service:

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 21.—

There is no gainsaying the fact that the 71st general assembly, heavily republican in both branches, is getting no better—fast.

The same jealousies between personal enemies in the legislature and out of it are continuing to make the way of the session hard. This is plainly evidenced from a glance at the work which the legislature has not done to date, although 10 days of the session have gone. Not one of the big group of republican platform bills has yet been enacted into law and the republican press of the state was yelping long before the legislature started about the way the measures that were endorsed in the platform were all being drawn by experts, ready for the hand of the legislators as soon as they arrived.

In fact all the republican platform measures were placed, printed, in the hands of the members of both houses before the session convened. It was announced. The word went out that the entire republican program was going through both houses as rapidly as legislative machinery could enact them, and everybody thought the whole matter would be settled within a week after the session opened.

Then came the famous explosion by Lieut. Gov. Edgar D. Bush, in which he hurled defiance at Gov. Goodrich and the republican state committee, which was engineering the legislative program, and told them, in effect, to keep hands off the senate. Privately it is known that Bush is not in sympathy with some of the so-called administration bills to any degree whatever, and that he will take every opportunity to show the leaders that are in sympathy with the governor that he is going to paddle his own canoe and "let the chips fall where they may," as he loves to say to his friends.

It is in this condition, and similar conditions evident in many spots among the membership of the house and senate, which has kept the session far behind the 1917 session in point of work accomplished. Approximately only half the number of bills has been introduced that were in at this time two years ago and although many of the administration bills have been introduced, no real action, even by committees, had been taken on any of them up to today. The leaders, it was known, were pulling every wire to get things straightened out—but with relatively little success.

JUGO-SLAV FEELING
AGAINST ITALIAN ARMY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—An official dispatch today from Belgrade to the Serbian press bureau here said popular feeling against the Italian army grows every hour in the Serb, Croat and Slovene regions occupied by the Italian forces and that open clashes occur daily.

"From all occupied towns and villages," said the dispatch, "desperate appeals to the allied powers are coming, asking for support and protection. Numerous hostile acts of the Italian army against the Jugo-Slav population are reported. Serb and Croat newspapers are advising the people to wait in patience the just decision of the allied authorities, but the situation in the meantime is very dangerous for the preservation of peace."

Another dispatch from Cetinje, Montenegro, under date of Jan. 15, says occupation by Italian troops of the Montenegrin towns and ports of Antivari, Duleigno and Vir Bazar and the River Boyana to Scutari, has produced a painful impression in Montenegro and that "grave consequences" are feared as the Italian military authorities have started an "energetic propaganda" in favor of King Nicholas, who recently was deposed by a Montenegrin national assembly, which voted to join the country with the new Jugo-Slav nation under the leadership of Serbia.

CANNERS CRITICISE
GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Sharp criticism of government ownership of railroads was voiced here tonight at a meeting of the National Canners' association and allied associations, by U. S. Sen. B. M. Fernald of Maine, a former president of the National Canners association. "Since the government took control of our railroads freight rates have advanced forty per cent; passenger rates fifty per cent and the poorest service ever experienced has been given to the people of this country," said Sen. Fernald.
